

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive Millennium Green

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

The Millennium Green.
In June 1998 the land was under agriculture with the small pond in the middle of a ploughed field.

From CPHT Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

In November 1998 work started with the clearing and ploughing of the land

From CPHT Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

Spring 1999 saw the start of the sowing of the meadow grass

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

By February 1999 Cleeve prior First School along with villagers were already planting the trees we see today. This was followed in December with the planting of a grove of yew trees

From CPHT Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

This was followed in Dec '99 and Jan '00 with the planting of earls lane wood

From CPHT Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

By March the team had moved on to fencing the perimeter.

From CPHT Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

By March the team had moved on to fencing the perimeter.

This was very closely followed by hedging and anti-rabbit fencing

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

And building Stiles and Kissing Gates

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

Seats and Raptor poles

From CPHT Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

The Wild flowers
we see today were the result off hard labour , with the team inserting them into the field as plugs.

October 1999

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

In August 1999 it became apparent that in wet weather the Pond would flood the adjacent meadow

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

So in the summer of 2003 the pond was enlarged to take up the extra water and to help the development of wildlife

From CPHT Archive

Cleeve Prior Chroniclers Photo Archive

The work to the pond generated a large amount of spoil and this was deposited at the top of the green to form a semi circular viewing mound

